

Making a regular donation

The history of Framlingham College is, in many ways, a tale of generosity and kindness. Framlingham College was founded in 1864 and sits in 75 acres of land, all of which was generously donated by Pembroke College, Cambridge. In 1948 the prep school was bought by the Society of Old Framlinghamians in memory of those alumni who fell in the two world wars. It is through such generosity that we can ensure that the College remains at the forefront of education for future generation of Old Framlinghamians. Every donation and every pledge, no matter how large or how small, will make a difference.
