The Head of EAL

Eleanor Dickson is Head of English as an Additional Language (EAL) at Framlingham College. Eleanor's main role is to help pupils improve their English language skills in order to allow them to better access the general curriculum and feel supported in understanding their subjects.

The EAL department provides international pupils with support and guidance in adapting to British culture and learning. The department works in tandem with the boarding house system to ensure international pupils are known and nurtured throughout their time at the College, and are able to grow to their full potential.

Our Location

We are ideally situated in the heart of Suffolk with its beautiful coastline on our doorstep and with major airports easily accessible.
